

Substitute Abstract

VIII. ABSTRACT

5       A computer and methods for valuing components temporally decomposed from property, and for producing documentation, including tax and insurance. In one variation, there is a separate market-based valuation of each of a plurality of components temporally decomposed from the property, the components including an estate for years interest and a remainder interest.